

I had the good fortune to meet Mr. Art Lynch in June 2007 when he was the instructor of the communications class; I had enrolled in at the College of Southern Nevada. I was at the crossroads of a major life changing decision, a career change, at age 57. I spent 35 years in the gaming industry, the last 15 as an operations director for Argosy Gaming prior to their merger and acquisition by Penn National Gaming Corporation. Enrolling in school after a thirty six year recess was a challenge that created many questions and doubts. On the very first day Professor Lynch made the statement, "you will be glad you took this class, trust me." He was right; Art became my mentor, and made that positive difference in my life that enabled me to overcome my fears with public speaking and the ability to stay current with technology. I began listening to Art on the radio on Sunday mornings and was notably impressed with his vast knowledge of a wide array of subjects.

Art is an organized, efficient, and extremely competent teacher with an excellent rapport with diverse cultures and people of all generations. Art's communication skills, both written and verbal are excellent and provoke even further communication.

In summary, I highly endorse and recommend Art Lynch for any position or endeavor that he may seek to pursue. Art will be a valuable team member and asset to any organization.
